

Zurich's Active Asset Allocation Fund

Delivering strong multi-asset returns for 10 years

Navigating volatile markets

It was against a turbulent backdrop for financial markets that Zurich's Active Asset Allocation Fund was launched in 2010. Since then, the fund has adapted to the ever-changing market conditions and successfully navigated the highs and lows of the last decade.

Consistent performance

Now, ten years on, our economy is in a similar position to when the fund first launched, emerging from a volatile year for investment markets, and the fund continues to consistently deliver strong multi-asset returns.

Zurich's Prisma Funds

The Prisma Funds aim to deliver risk-targeted versions of Zurich's range of 5 Prisma multi-asset funds, the Active Asset Allocation (AAA) Fund. The asset allocation decisions made for the AAA Fund are replicated proportionately across the Prisma Funds.

Active Asset Allocation in Action

Annualised Investment Performance since launch

Caroline, age 76*

- Caroline's advisor recommended an ARF with Zurich as she approached retirement in 2010.
- Caroline invested her €500,000 ARF in the Active Asset Allocation fund with Zurich, as she felt this was an appropriate fund for her risk-reward appetite.
- In 2020, Caroline and her advisor reviewed her position, and she still had a current fund value of €562,408, on top of that she's been able to take imputed distribution totalling €248,574 over the 10-year time frame.

Liam, age 50

- Liam began saving for his child's education in 2010.
- Liam had a 9 year old daughter and his advisor recommended a savings plan to cover the costs of sending her to college as part of Liam's overall financial plan. According to the Cost of Education calculator on Zurich's website Liam would need around €40,000 to cover the costs.
- Liam was lucky enough to be able to contribute €250 each month to a Zurich Regular Savings plan invested in the Active Asset Allocation fund over a 10-year time frame.
- In 2020, Liam's daughter received an offer to attend college in another County and Liam had enough saved to contribute towards the cost of her education and to pay for her student accommodation.
- His premiums totalled €33,610 and the final fund value was €40,445.

The Active Asset Allocation fund and Zurich's Prisma fund range are available across the Zurich suite of Pensions, Savings and Investment products.
