Key thoughts when planning your retirement

Can you rely on the State Pension?

The State Contributory Pension is currently worth about €1,000 a month (Citizens Information Board, November 2019). It's helpful but it's not going to give you a comfortable life on its own. The State Pension is funded by taxes paid by Ireland's workforce. But Ireland's population is ageing, so in the future there will be more retirees sharing a smaller pot. In short, you should not rely on the State to provide your pension. The only way to ensure the retirement you want is to take ownership of it now.

You're never too young or old to start

You can start a pension at any time. The older you are the bigger the contribution you will have to make to guarantee a healthy retirement fund. Obviously, it helps to start early. The sooner you start making pension contributions the better off you will be when you finally retire.

How much to save?

This is, perhaps, the single most important consideration. Of course, it's up to you but it usually depends on these main factors - when you would like to retire, what lifestyle you would like in retirement and how much can you afford to save. This may vary for lots of reasons throughout your working life.

A pension is the most tax efficient way to save

The government encourages us to save for our future by offering valuable tax relief on retirement funds. Other forms of saving, like bank accounts or savings plans, do not attract such incentives. The table below shows the actual cost of pension contributions when tax relief is taken into account. As you can see it is significantly lower.

Your monthly pension contribution	Less tax relief	Actual cost to you
€200	40% tax relief*	€120
€200	20% tax relief*	€160

* Based on income tax rates as at November 2019. Source: Revenue.ie. These rates may change in the future.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

What's your attitude towards risk?

All of your pension contributions will be invested in an investment fund or a combination of investment funds, with a view to growing your retirement pot. How that money is invested depends on how much risk you are prepared to accept. Everyone's attitude to risk is different.

Choosing your own investment strategy will involve deciding on the level of return you are looking for and balancing it against the level of risk you are comfortable with. This is called your Risk Profile.

As a general rule of thumb, the further you are from retirement, the more adventurous you can be with your investment choices. There are a wide range of investment solutions depending on the level of investment risk that you are comfortable with.

What happens when I retire?

On retirement you can take a cash lump sum that is tax free, subject to Revenue limits. You'll want the remainder of your retirement fund to see you through the rest of your life, so it's important to consider options that will suit your personal circumstances best.

There are two main choices:

(i) An income for life (Annuity)

This is a secure retirement option that provides a steady cash flow until you die. The benefit dies with you and you can't pass it on to your estate.

(ii) A retirement fund you can control (ARF)

An Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) gives you extra control over your pension fund when you retire. Basically, you continue to invest your retirement fund and draw down a regular income at the same time.

The ARF is yours to invest and budget as you see fit (making sure it doesn't run out) and you can pass it on to your estate when you die.

Understanding investment risk

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This report uses the Zurich Life Risk Profiler, an illustrative tool designed to assist you in beginning to understand your attitude to risk which is an important step before making an investment. The Zurich Life Risk Profiler does not constitute advice from Zurich Life. It is very important that you review your overall situation and investment needs with us prior to making an investment.

NOTE: We have inserted an externally-sourced Risk Profile for this product

Throughout this document, we have provided some information on the risk level of your potential investment with Zurich. We use a 1-7 scale to assess investment risk, and the table below shows what each point on the scale means.

It is important that the funds you invest in meet your needs - both in terms of delivering performance and their appropriateness to the level of risk you wish to take.

1	You are a ' very low risk ' investor. You are not willing to accept any significant risks with your money, accepting the prospect of low returns to achieve this.
2	You are a ' low risk ' investor. You are likely to accept limited risks with your money and will want to try to avoid large fluctuations in the value of your investment, accepting the prospect of more modest returns to achieve this.
3	You are a ' low to medium risk ' investor. You are likely to accept some risk in return for the potential of higher investment gains over the long-term. You want to try to avoid large fluctuations in the value of your investment, but accept there will be some fluctuation, particularly over the short-term.
4	You are a ' medium risk ' investor. You are likely to accept significant risk in return for the potential of good investment gains over the long-term. You accept there will be significant fluctuations in the value of your investment, particularly over the short-term. However, you will want to limit the amount of your money held in more risky investments.
5	You are a ' medium to high risk ' investor. You are likely to understand that the value of your investment can go down and up sharply with the potential for greater returns over the long-term.
6	You are a ' high risk ' investor. You are likely to aim for high possible returns and accept higher levels of risk, recognising that the value of your investment may fluctuate very sharply, particularly over the short-term.
7	You are a ' very high risk ' investor. You are likely to aim for the highest possible returns and accept the highest levels of risk, recognising that the value of your investment may fluctuate very widely, particularly over the short-term.

What's happening in the markets?

April 2022

Equity markets rebounded strongly throughout March to recover some of the ground lost so far this year. Whilst the invasion of Ukraine continued to dominate news flow, the recent recovery in credit and equities has largely conformed to the typical historical pattern seen during wars, when the markets reach their lows just around the time a conflict starts and recover thereafter. Commodities have come off their highs reached in the immediate aftermath of the invasion but are likely to remain volatile and strongly influenced by geopolitical factors.

The spectre of higher interest rates loomed over bond markets as both the Federal Reserve and Bank of England hiked rates. Global sovereign bonds sold off as a result, and even considering the volatility seen in the first quarter of 2022, equities have outperformed bonds year-to-date.

However, despite the emergence of a constructive tone, uncertainty around the outcome of the Russia-Ukraine conflict and the potential for a central bank policy mistake still remain. The potential for binary outcomes calls for a flexible approach from investors.

There were no significant changes to our asset allocation throughout the month of March. However, we do note that the secular shift in monetary policy, triggered by inflation, is likely to have a material impact on investment markets in the months ahead. Within our equity portfolios the main bias is towards Asia and Europe, with allocations to Japan and the UK also above average. We remain underweight the North America region. Some sectoral positions were trimmed throughout the month with our allocations towards technology and consumer discretionary stocks reduced. However, we remain positive on both those sectors. Allocations towards healthcare, industrials, and materials were increased. Within our fixed income allocations our cautious stance towards eurozone sovereign bonds remains intact. Corporate bonds continue to be favoured on a relative basis within this asset class.

Cash

- The Over Five Year Euro Government Bond returned -3.1% during March, which leaves the year-to-date performance at -7.2%. Bonds have struggled as expectations of a more hawkish monetary policy environment, via both quantitative tightening and higher interest rates, continue to build. During March the Federal Reserve raised interest rates by 0.25% (the first move higher since 2018) to a range of 0.25%-0.50%. The bank of England also raised rates for the third time in this cycle and the headline rate now sits at 0.75%.
- The German ten year bund yield rose 36 bps during the month to now stand at 0.54%, its highest level since 2018. The closely watched 10 year treasury yield also rose to finish at 2.34%, having begun the month at 1.91%. Despite this increase the spread between the 2yr treasury yield and the 10 year treasury yield turned negative, a scenario referred to as 'yield curve inversion'.
- On the currency markets, the EUR/USD rate closed at 1.10 as the euro weakened further. The euro was broadly flat versus sterling over the month and closed at 0.84.

In terms of individual markets, euro returns ranged from +11.2% in Australia to -8.6% in Ireland. In local terms, Australia remained the best performing market (+6.4%) and Ireland remained the worst (-8.6%).
- In the US, the world's largest stock market, the best performing sector (in local terms) over the month was utilities (+10.4%) with financials (-0.3%), which suffered due to a flattening yield curve, the only sector in negative territory in March. Year-to-date, energy remains the star performer (+37.7%) with consumer discretionary stocks return -9.2%.

- Gold finished the month at $1937 per troy ounce as it continued to attract investor inflows. Copper rose 4.5% to close out March at $10,367 per tonne.

Fund Description

The Prisma 4 Fund is an actively managed fund which aims to achieve growth through capital gains and income from investing across a diversified range of global asset classes - equities, bonds, property, commodities, cash and alternative assets. The strategic and tactical asset allocation strategies employed by the fund managers aim to generate long-term capital growth while targeting a volatility range of 5% - 10% over a rolling 5 year period. This fund invests some of its assets outside the eurozone so a currency risk arises for a euro investor. As the fund is managed from the point of view of a euro investor any currency hedging that may be conducted will be into euros. This fund is managed by Zurich Life.

Standard PRSA

Preliminary Disclosure Certificate

Introduction

This is a Preliminary Disclosure Certificate ('Certificate') for a Standard Personal Retirement Savings Account, provided by Zurich Life Assurance plc (Zurich Life).

The Target Market for this product is individuals who wish to save in a tax efficient manner to provide an income and/or tax free lump sum when they retire, and who do not expect to need access to the money invested until they retire.

1. Description of Your PRSA

(a) Benefits

Retirement benefits

You may retire at any time from your 60th birthday to your 75th birthday, providing that you comply with the relevant legislation at the time. You will have a choice as to the form in which your retirement benefits can be taken, and the different available types of benefit are described below. You will be able to continue making contributions to your PRSA.

Pension

A pension is an income that is payable to you for life. It is usually paid monthly or yearly, it can increase annually to keep pace with inflation, and it can be guaranteed to be paid for a certain number of years - normally five years and no greater than ten years - and for life thereafter. Please note that where a guaranteed period exists, in the event of death, the pension can be assigned (for the remainder of the guaranteed period) in the distribution of the estate.

Spouse's pension

You can purchase a pension that will be paid to your spouse in the event of your death after you have retired. This pension can be no greater than the pension that is payable to you and described above. If your spouse dies before you do, no spouse's pension will be payable.

Tax-free lump sum

Upon your retirement, you may have an immediate need for a lump sum; your PRSA can provide you with a tax-free lump sum. The maximum amount of tax-free lump sum available is described in the section on Tax.

Taxable lump sum

You can take all of your retirement proceeds as a taxable lump sum if you have a guaranteed lifetime income of at least €12,700, or have invested €63,500 in an Approved Minimum Retirement Fund (see overleaf for a description) or an annuity or a combination thereof, or have reached the age of 75.

Approved (Minimum) Retirement Fund

An Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) is an investment that lets you control your retirement income. You can invest it in a wide range of different assets and can draw whatever income you need from it whenever you need it. Before you invest in an ARF, you must satisfy the same requirements as described on page 1 for taking a taxable lump sum. An Approved Minimum

Retirement Fund is similar to an ARF, but you cannot draw more than 4% of the fund value each year before you reach the age of 75.

Early retirement

If you are an employee or your occupation is one in which persons customarily retire before the age of 60, you may be able to take your retirement benefits earlier than your 60th birthday, but no earlier than your 50th birthday. If you are a member of an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme and make Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs) to your PRSA, you must wait until you retire under the rules of the pension scheme before you can draw any benefits from the fund built up by the AVCs made to this PRSA. For the purposes of early retirement, an employee is a person that works under a contract of employment, including civil servants. The retirement benefits described previously are also available on early retirement.

Ill-health retirement

If you become permanently incapable through infirmity of mind or body of carrying on your own occupation or any other occupation that you are trained or fitted for, you can retire on ill-health grounds. Before you can take ill-health retirement, you must provide us with appropriate evidence that supports your ill-health claim. The retirement benefits described previously are also available on ill-health retirement.

Death-in-service benefits

If you die before retirement, the PRSA assets can be used to provide a pension for your spouse or can be paid as a lump sum to your estate. The spouse's pension can be no greater than the pension that would have been payable to you on retirement.

Refund

If the value of your PRSA does not exceed €650 and you have not made any contributions for at least two years, we can pay the PRSA assets to you. At least three months before this happens, you will receive a written statement from us advising you to make further contributions or transfer your PRSA to another PRSA or pension arrangement. This refund is liable to income tax.

(b) Investment Strategy

You can choose to follow one of the investment strategies set out below.

Default Investment Strategy

A Default Investment Strategy (DIS) is designed to fulfil the reasonable expectations of a typical investor for the purposes of saving for retirement. The DIS (Annuity) will be chosen for you if you make no choice about your investment preference, see below for more details. This DIS invests contributions in a PRSA fund with a reward-risk profile that is suitable to the number of years remaining to your selected retirement date. With a longer period to retirement, we believe that you should invest in PRSA funds with the potential for higher returns, even though these funds are more inherently risky. As you approach retirement, however, we recommend that your PRSA is moved into a more stable investment to protect the investment performance achieved to date.

If you intend to purchase an annuity with your retirement proceeds, your contributions are directed according to the table below:

Number of years to retirement	Fund that contributions are invested in
At least 25	Dynamic Fund
At least 15, but less than 25	Performance Fund
At least 5, but less than 15	Balanced Fund
Less than 5	Active Fixed Income Fund

Five years before your selected retirement date, monies invested in the Dynamic, Performance and Balanced Funds will be gradually switched into the Active Fixed Income Fund. By your selected retirement date, your PRSA will be invested 100% in the Active Fixed Income Fund. Because of the investments held by the Active Fixed Income Fund, its price is expected to fall and rise in line with long-term interest rates and, therefore, in line with the cost of buying an annuity; by ensuring that your PRSA is 100% invested in this fund at retirement, you are somewhat protected against the possibility of a sudden rise in the price of annuities.

If you intend to invest your retirement proceeds in an ARF, your contributions are directed according to the table below:

Number of years to retirement	Fund that contributions are invested in
At least 25	Dynamic Fund
At least 15, but less than 25	Performance Fund
Less than 15	Balanced Fund

Five years before your selected retirement date, monies invested in the Dynamic and Performance Funds will be gradually switched into the Balanced Fund. By your selected retirement date, your PRSA will be invested 100% in the Balanced Fund; this PRSA fund is typical of the type of fund often used by ARFs.

Traditionally, equities - that is, stocks and shares - have produced higher returns than bonds have; this outperformance has come, however, at the price of greater unpredictability. The greater unpredictability of equities is shown in the way share prices fluctuate daily, while the prices of bonds tend to be more stable. The more equities held by your PRSA, therefore, the more the value of your PRSA can be expected to vary from day to day and year to year.

The table below shows how the four funds included in the Default Investment Strategy have performed over five, ten and fifteen year periods.

	Dynamic Fund %	Performance Fund %	Balanced Fund %	Active Fixed Income Fund %
Indicative equity content	75 – 100	65 – 90	50 – 75	0
Average yearly return (over 15 years)	7.39	7.01	6.66	4.51
Average yearly return (over 10 years)	10.27	9.67	8.94	4.85
Average yearly return (over 5 years)	7.36	6.95	5.95	2.86
Standard Deviation of yearly returns (over 10 years)	13.59	12.19	10.59	4.94
Largest 3-month fall	27.44	25.55	22.23	9.56%

All dates to 01/07/20.

Annual management fees apply. The fund growth shown below is before the full annual management charge is applied on your policy.

Note: Based on performance over the periods 01/07/2005 to 01/07/2020; 01/07/2010 to 01/07/2020; and 01/07/2015 to 01/07/2020.

The return is based on an investment in the fund and does not represent the return achieved by individual policies linked to the fund.

Warning: Past performance is not a reliable guide to future performance.

Warning: The value of investment may go down as well as up.

Warning: This product may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates.

Warning: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

The standard deviation of returns is a measure of how much the return varied about the average over the period. A fund with a low standard deviation can be expected to return small gains and losses, while a fund with a high standard deviation is more likely to be subject to larger rises and falls. The standard deviation of a fund is often used as a measure of the risk associated with the fund.

The above table also shows the largest fall over a 3-month period experienced by each fund since their inception. As can be seen, the funds with the highest equity content displayed the largest falls.

(c) Tax

Contributions

Income tax relief is available on the contributions that you make to a PRSA. If your contributions are deducted directly from your salary, you obtain this relief immediately; otherwise, you need to apply to the Revenue Commissioners and the Department of Social Protection. The maximum amount of contributions, as a proportion of annual net relevant earnings, that you can make in a year and receive full tax relief on is set out in the table below. Relevant earnings are any remuneration from an office or employment or income from a trade or profession chargeable to tax; net relevant earnings are relevant earnings less losses, capital allowances, and certain payments that reduce your income for tax purposes, such as tax-effective covenants.

Age	Maximum contributions
Under 30	15%
30 to 39	20%
40 to 49	25%
50 to 54	30% †
55 to 59	35%
60 and over	40%

† The 30% limit applies to contributions, other than AVCs, of certain categories of person that typically retire earlier than usual, such as athletes, jockeys, etc., who are aged less than 55.

For the purposes of calculating the maximum tax relief, annual net relevant earnings are limited to €115,000 in 2020.

Any contributions that you make to a personal pension or an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme are included in the above limits. Contributions made by your employer, if any, to your PRSA are also effectively included in the above limits. The way this works in practice is that employer contributions are treated as a benefit-in-kind, and then for relief purposes, they are treated as having been made by you; providing that the total amount of contributions is within the above limits, your tax liability will not be affected by any employer contributions.

You may also elect to apply your contribution to the preceding tax year, provided payment is made by 31st October. Extended payment and return filing dates apply if made via Revenue Online Services.

Contributions paid in any year in excess of the maximum tax-deductible contribution may be carried forward and claimed in future years, subject to the annual limit for those years. Similarly, contributions paid while out of the workforce may be carried forward and claimed against future earnings on return to paid employment, subject to the annual limits.

If you belong to an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme, the only contributions to a PRSA that you can receive tax relief on are AVCs. If you are not in the workforce, you will not be able to receive tax relief.

Investment

The PRSA funds that your PRSA will invest in are exempt from capital gains tax and income tax. Withholding taxes, however, may be deducted at source from dividends and other income arising out of investments in certain countries; in most cases, these withholding taxes can be reclaimed; where they cannot be reclaimed, the income of the funds will be reduced by these taxes.

Benefits

Any payments, except those detailed below, that you receive from your PRSA will be liable to income tax. In certain circumstances, we are obliged to deduct these taxes and pass them on to the Revenue Commissioners before you receive your benefit.

The amount of tax-free lump sum available to you on retirement is 25% of the value of your PRSA. If you have made AVCs, however, the available tax-free lump sum derived from them is subject to the rules of the relevant pension scheme; it will usually be based on your service and earnings at retirement and will not exceed 1.5 times your earnings.

If you have not already taken your retirement benefits from your PRSA on or before your 75th Birthday, it will automatically become vested and you will not be able to access your PRSA assets (funds). Similarly, if you have a vested PRSA already in place, you will no longer have access to funds after your 75th Birthday. You will not be able to take retirement benefits or make further withdrawals from your vested PRSA from this age. As required, we will deduct income tax and Universal Social Charge from your vested PRSA as if you had made a minimum withdrawal (known as an imputed distribution). However, we will not be allowed to make any payments to you.

If you die before drawing any retirement benefits, the lump-sum death benefit will not be liable to income tax and will be paid to your estate; inheritance tax, however, will still apply. If you die after drawing your retirement benefits, any remaining funds in your PRSA - that is, after any lump sums have been paid out and any annuities, Approved Retirement Funds, and Approved Minimum Retirement Funds have been purchased - will be taxed in a similar way to how ARFs are taxed on death, as detailed in the table below.

If you die after your 75th Birthday, where your funds have remained in a Vested PRSA, the benefits will be paid out in a similar way as ARFs are taxed on death, as outlined in the table below.

Transfer on death to:	Income tax	Capital Acquisitions Tax (CAT)
ARF of Spouse	No	No
Spouse	Yes	No
Child aged 21/21+	Yes 30%	No
Child aged under 21	No	Yes*
Others	Yes	Yes*
*The usual CAT thresholds apply.

Zurich Life will deduct any taxes from the death benefit as required of it by the Revenue Commissioners.

Although any income that is later drawn from an ARF or AMRF will be taxable as income, the transfer of assets from your PRSA to an ARF or AMRF is not taxable.

Maximum pension fund and tax-free lump sum

There is a limit on the size of retirement funds and on the size of tax-free lump sum that can be taken at retirement. The standard fund threshold is currently €2 million. If your pension fund exceeds this at retirement, you will have to pay income tax (currently 40%) on the excess, in addition to the tax you would normally pay on your purchased retirement benefits. The maximum total tax-free lump sum that can be taken at retirement is €200,000 as at 01 July 2020. Retirement lump sums between €200,000 and €500,000 will be taxed at the standard rate.

Refund of contributions from a pension scheme

You may transfer a refund of contributions from an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme into your PRSA. Although refunds of contributions are usually liable to tax at the standard rate of income tax, you will not have to pay tax on the refund if it is transferred into your PRSA.

Transfer to and from other pension arrangements

You have the option of transferring the assets of your PRSA to another PRSA or a pension scheme, including one established outside Ireland, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed. These transfers of assets are not treated as benefit payments for the purposes of taxation.

Providing that the parties involved agree and the relevant legislation is complied with, your PRSA may receive transfers of assets from another PRSA or pension arrangement. These transfers of assets are not treated as contributions for the purposes of taxation.

(d) Risk Factors

Investment

The prices of PRSA funds are not guaranteed and can fall as well as rise. This means that your PRSA can fall in value. If a benefit were payable after a fall in the value of your PRSA, you would receive a lower amount than you might have expected.

Traditionally, equities have shown the most volatility in value, which is usually equated with risk, although they have also tended to outperform other asset classes over the long-term. The higher the equity content of your PRSA assets, the more the value of your PRSA fund can be expected to fluctuate. If you cannot tolerate large swings in the value of your PRSA or the chance of a substantial drop in value, you should consider investing in funds that have a relatively low exposure to equities.

Taking benefits early

A PRSA is a long-term financial commitment. Except in exceptional circumstances described earlier in this certificate (under Refund in the section Benefits on page 2), you will not be able to access monies invested in your PRSA until retirement. This means that you should not consider investing any monies in a PRSA that you may need in the short-term. You should be satisfied, therefore, that the long-term nature of this commitment fits in with your needs, resources, and circumstances before entering into a PRSA contract.

What happens if you cease making contributions?

One of the most important factors in determining the level of benefits that you will be able to enjoy in retirement is the total amount of contributions that you make to your PRSA. You can cease payment of contributions at any time, and you can subsequently recommence payment of contributions at any time. Although we will not impose any penalties or other charges should you choose to make no further contributions, you should be aware that if you were to cease making contributions, your retirement income would suffer accordingly. You should also be aware that the value of your PRSA in the early years might not exceed the total amount of contributions made.

2. Projected Level of Benefits

The benefits that will emerge from your Standard PRSA will depend, in particular, on the level of your contributions, how long you pay those contributions, and the investment return achieved.

The table below illustrates the retirement income for life payable monthly from age 65 projected to be obtained from contributions of different amounts starting from different ages. This retirement income has been adjusted for inflation so that the amounts are shown in terms of current prices.

Amount of contribution paid per month	Retirement income payable for life from age 65 if contributions start from age:
	20	30	40	50	60
€50	€76 per month	€58 per month	€41 per month	€25 per month	€8 per month
€100	€151 per month	€117 per month	€83 per month	€49 per month	€16 per month
€200	€302 per month	€233 per month	€166 per month	€99 per month	€33 per month
€400	€604 per month	€467 per month	€331 per month	€198 per month	€66 per month

This table shows that if contributions of €100 per month escalating at 1.5% per annum are payable for 35 years from age 30 to 65, then the retirement income payable for life from age 65 is projected to be €117 per month. Contributions are assumed to commence on 1st July 2020.

3. Preparation of the above Table

The figures in the table above were prepared in line with the Personal Retirement Savings Accounts (Disclosure) Regulations 2002 and Actuarial Standards of Practice ASP PRSA-2 of the Society of Actuaries in Ireland.

4. Warnings

It is important to make adequate provision for your retirement. At the date of this Certificate, the State Pension (Contributory) payable under the Social Welfare (Consolidation) Act 2005, to a single person who is qualified to receive the maximum rate amounts to €248.30 per week and equates to 32% of the latest yearly figure for gross average earnings as published by the Central Statistics Office for all industrial workers in all industries.

The value of your assets and, accordingly, the level of your benefits will depend upon the value of the underlying investments of the Standard PRSA and the income which they earn. These values are not guaranteed and may fall from time to time as well as rise.

This Standard PRSA is intended to provide benefits over the duration of your life from retirement, and it should be viewed as a long-term investment.

5. Information on Charges

(a) Description of Charges

Allocation percentage

An allocation percentage of at least 95% means that Zurich Life levies a contribution charge of at most 5% of each contribution. This contribution charge is to cover administration and other expenses incurred by Zurich Life in providing this PRSA to you.

The allocation percentage is the percentage of each contribution that will be used to buy units in PRSA funds and is at least 95% for your PRSA. The price of the units at the time the contribution is received will determine how many units are bought. The price will change in line with the value of the underlying assets. When a benefit is payable, the units will be sold at the then current price; in this manner, your PRSA will share in the investment performance of the relevant PRSA funds.

If your contract is held as part of a group, this contribution charge does not depend on the size of the contribution. If your contract is not held as part of a group, then the contribution charge can vary in line with the size of the contribution.

For regular contribution contracts, the contribution charge depends on the amount of your initial contribution; therefore any future increases or decreases in your contribution amount will not affect the charge. For once-off contribution contracts, the contribution charge depends on the amount of each once-off contribution.

A reduction in contribution charge is equivalent to an increase in your allocation percentage.

Regular Contributions

Contribution Charge Reduction	Regular Annualised Contribution
0%	Less than €6,000
0.75%	Greater than or equal to €6,000 and less than €12,000
1.50%	Greater than or equal to €12,000

Once-Off Contributions

Contribution Charge Reduction	Once-Off Contribution
0%	Less than €15,000
0.75%	Greater than or equal to €15,000 and less than €30,000
1.50%	Greater than or equal to €30,000

Note: The minimum contribution charge is 0% for regular contributions. This minimum does not apply for once-off contributions.

If your allocation percentage is higher than 95%, we may decrease the allocation percentage to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation, or if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that we are recovering from these contracts.

We will inform you in writing at least two months before any change in the allocation percentage is made. If the allocation percentage is decreased, we will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made. The allocation percentage cannot be decreased to a level lower than 95%.

Management charge

A management charge of at most 1% per annum means that we levy a charge of at most 1% per annum of the total value of your PRSA assets. This charge is to cover investment management and other expenses incurred by us in providing this PRSA to you.

The management charge is the percentage of your PRSA assets that we deduct and is at most 1% per annum for your PRSA. We deduct the management charge either directly from the PRSA funds or from your PRSA or by a combination of these methods.

If your management charge is lower than 1% per annum, we may increase the management charge to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation, or if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that we are recovering from these contracts.

We will inform you in writing at least two months before any increase in the management charge is made. If the management charge is increased, we will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made. The management charge cannot be increased to a level higher than 1% per annum.

Other ongoing costs

In addition to the contribution and annual management charges, there are other ongoing costs that are not for the benefit of Zurich and do not fall under the definition of charges on PRSA contracts. Examples of these costs are ETF related fees and other fund costs

(b) Maximum Charges

The maximum permitted level of charges on a Standard PRSA such as this is limited by law to 5% of each contribution and 1% per annum of the assets in the Account.

6. Cooling-off Period

This contract is not enforceable until a period of 30 days has elapsed from the date on which you are given a Statement of Reasonable Projection, and you may cancel this contract at any time during that period.

This Preliminary Disclosure Certificate has been prepared under the provisions of section 111 of the Pensions Act, 1990, as amended, for disclosure in connection with this Standard PRSA on 01 February 2017.
