PENSIONS

OUR SIMPLE GUIDE

WHAT IS A PENSION?

A pension is a long-term savings plan designed to help you accumulate funds for your retirement. It offers tax advantages and provides a regular income during your retirement years. Pensions are a crucial part of financial planning, ensuring that you have sufficient funds to maintain your lifestyle when you stop working.

TYPES OF PENSIONS

State pension

Occupational pension

Personal pensions

KEY FEATURES OF PENSIONS

Tax Relief

Contributions to your pension plan are eligible for tax relief, reducing your taxable income.

Investment Growth

Pension funds are typically invested in a range of assets, allowing your savings to grow over time.

PLANNING FOR RETIREMENT

Assess Your Retirement Goals

Determine how much income you will need in retirement to maintain your desired lifestyle.

Evaluate Your Current Savings

Review your existing pension plans and other retirement savings.

Contribute Regularly

Make regular contributions to your pension plan.

Statement of Suitability

Important Notice - Statement of Suitability

This is an important document which sets out the reasons why the product(s) or service(s) offered or recommended is/are considered suitable, or the most suitable, for your particular needs, objectives and circumstances.

Financial Advisor: John Smith

Date: 07 January 2025

Client: Mr Patrick Jordan

Age: 31

Retirement Age: 60

Recommended Product: Personal Pension

After analysing your personal circumstances from the information you provided me with and the fact find we completed, the following are my recommendations.

1. Your Personal Circumstances

- You are self-employed./You are in non-pensionable employment.
- You are in good health.

2. Your Needs and Objectives

- You wish to provide a total retirement income from all sources of EUR30000 at your target retirement age.
- Based on your current retirement provision I have determined that you will have an income shortfall at your retirement age.
- You are looking for a return in excess of inflation.
- You want to maximise the tax reliefs that are available.
- You are happy to take some risk with your retirement plan in order to get a better potential return than deposits.

3. Your Financial Situation

- Your earnings are EUR50000.
- You have earnings for pension purposes.
- You pay tax at the standard/higher rate.
- You have other retirement plans worth EUR35000. You are currently making contributions to other plans of EUR500 per month.
- We have assessed your need for emergency capital and you are comfortable your circumstances are covered/you are going to put EUR_____ into a deposit account as an emergency fund.
- In terms of affordability, I have assessed your income and outgoings (including pension contributions, where relevant). Based on these calculations, it shows that you have approximately EUR500 per month of disposable income. Your proposed plan is affordable and within your current budget.
- We have captured all this and more in the fact find completed on xx/xx/xx, a copy of which is enclosed.

4. Recommended Product: Personal Pension

- I have examined your financial needs, and I believe you should take out a Personal Pension. I outline below the reasons for my recommendation.
- You are looking to make a single contribution to your Personal Pension.
- You want to take advantage of available tax relief on pension contributions.

- I have made you aware of the gross and net cost of contributing to the plan and the long term nature of this plan.
- The Personal Pension is suitable as it has access to a wide range of funds with exposure to different asset classes and offers a competitive charging structure.
- These plans are not guaranteed but over the long term may produce a return in excess of deposits.
- This retirement plan allows you increase or reduce your contribution level at any time / allows you to make additional single contributions.
- This plan is designed as a long term retirement product and generally you will not have access to this fund until at least age 60.
- This plan is in line with your personal circumstances and suits your requirements. We recommend that this retirement plan is reviewed at least every year.

5. Our Recommended Product Provider

- We are authorised to advise on x pension companies in Ireland and recommend that you effect a retirement plan with Zurich Life Assurance plc.
- Zurich Life is one of Ireland's largest Pension, Investment and Protection Providers. Zurich Life is a member of the Zurich Insurance Group, a multi-line insurer serving customers in more than 210 countries and territories.
- The Zurich Life Personal Pension product has a clear charging structure. There is a x% annual fund management charge and a policy fee of EURx per month.
- X% of your single contribution is invested in your fund.
- X% of your regular contribution is invested in your fund.
- You have access to a default investment strategy.
- This plan has access to Zurich Life's wide range of funds which gives you access to many different types of assets classes, sectors and geographies. You can spread your contributions over a number of these funds.
- Zurich Life allows you to switch between funds.
- Zurich Life's range of funds allows you to decide upon your own personal reward-risk profile and these funds allow you to match your attitude to Risk/Return with your chosen fund(s).

6. Risk profile of this product and your Attitude to Risk

- Based on the answers to the risk profiler your risk profile rating is a 3 on a scale of 1 (Very low risk) to 7 (Very high risk). A 3 is a Low to medium risk rating. You are likely to accept some risk in return for the potential of higher investment gains over the long-term. You want to try to avoid large fluctuations in the value of your investment, but accept there will be some fluctuation, particularly over the short-term.
- You have selected the following fund - Prisma 3 - which has a risk rating of 3 and are happy to proceed with this fund.
- You understand the trade-off between risk and return.
- This means that you have a low level of emergency funds, or few other investment assets. Poor performance on this investment could put you in financial difficulty.
- This means that you have some level of emergency funds, or other investment assets you could use if necessary. Poor performance on this investment is not likely to put you in financial difficulty.
- This means that you have sufficient emergency funds, and you have other investment assets. Poor performance on this investment will not put you in financial difficulty.
- You understand that investment funds can fall as well as rise and values are not guaranteed. Your investment does not provide any capital guarantee.

7. Guarantees and Limitations

- The investment is not guaranteed to return your capital or achieve any rate of return.
- There is no guarantee that the return on this pension policy will match or beat inflation.
- There is no guarantee that this contract will provide enough to pay any particular income in retirement.
- Tax relief and benefit options can be subject to amendment by governments.
- You will not have access to this retirement plan until aged 60 unless you are seriously ill.
- You may have to wait for an extended period in order to encash any investments in property.

Please read the Guarantees and Limitations section

I have provided you with a Customer Guide and a copy of your Policy Document which explains how this policy works in more detail. Please read them carefully and make sure you understand the benefits provided by the policy.

An Overview of our Product Recommendation

Personal Pension

Monthly Contribution	€150.00
Single Contribution	€150,000.00
Chosen Retirement Age	60

- A Personal Pension is designed to allow you to build up a retirement fund by making regular contributions and/or a single contribution.
- You decide how much to contribute to your pension and you can stop and restart making contributions at any time without penalty.
- You can choose from a range of investment funds suitable to the level of risk you wish to take. The value of your investment will go up and down depending on the performance of those funds.
- You may be able to claim tax relief on your contribution.
- A Personal Pension product is suitable if you are self-employed, or an employee whose employer does not offer an occupational pension scheme.
- When you reach your retirement age (usually a minimum of age 60 and up to age 75), you can take your retirement benefits in the form of an annuity (a guaranteed income for life) or an Approved Retirement Fund (an investment product from which you can draw down an income as you require). You may also be able to take a tax free lump sum.

WARNING: The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

WARNING: The income you get from this investment may go down as well as up.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

Key thoughts when planning your retirement

Can you rely on the State Pension?

The maximum rate of State Contributory Pension is currently worth about €1,250 a month (Citizens Information Board, January 2025). It's helpful but it's not going to give you a comfortable life on its own. The State Pension is funded by taxes paid by Ireland's workforce. But Ireland's population is ageing, so in the future there will be more retirees sharing a smaller pot. In short, you should not rely on the State to provide your pension. The only way to ensure the retirement you want is to take ownership of it now.

You're never too young or old to start

You can start a pension at any time. The older you are the bigger the contribution you will have to make to guarantee a healthy retirement fund. Obviously, it helps to start early. The sooner you start making pension contributions the better off you will be when you finally retire.

How much to save?

This is, perhaps, the single most important consideration. Of course, it's up to you but it usually depends on these main factors - when you would like to retire, what lifestyle you would like in retirement and how much can you afford to save. This may vary for lots of reasons throughout your working life.

A pension is the most tax efficient way to save

The government encourages us to save for our future by offering valuable tax relief on retirement funds. Other forms of saving, like bank accounts or savings plans, do not attract such incentives.

The table below shows the actual cost of pension contributions when tax relief is taken into account. As you can see it is significantly lower.

Your monthly pension contribution	Less tax relief	Actual cost to you
€200	40% tax relief*	€120
€200	20% tax relief*	€160

* Based on income tax rates as at January 2025. Source: Revenue.ie. These rates may change in the future.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

What's your attitude towards risk?

All of your pension contributions will be invested in an investment fund or a combination of investment funds, with a view to growing your retirement pot. How that money is invested depends on how much risk you are prepared to accept. Everyone's attitude to risk is different.

Choosing your own investment strategy will involve deciding on the level of return you are looking for and balancing it against the level of risk you are comfortable with. This is called your Risk Profile.

As a general rule of thumb, the further you are from retirement, the more adventurous you can be with your investment choices. There are a wide range of investment solutions depending on the level of investment risk that you are comfortable with.

What happens when I retire?

On retirement you can take a cash lump sum that is tax free, subject to Revenue limits. You'll want the remainder of your retirement fund to see you through the rest of your life, so it's important to consider options that will suit your personal circumstances best.

There are two main choices:

(i) An income for life (Annuity)

This is a secure retirement option that provides a steady cash flow until you die. The benefit dies with you and you can't pass it on to your estate.

(ii) A retirement fund you can control (ARF)

An Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) gives you extra control over your pension fund when you retire. Basically, you continue to invest your retirement fund and draw down a regular income at the same time.

The ARF is yours to invest and budget as you see fit (making sure it doesn't run out) and you can pass it on to your estate when you die.

WARNING: The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

WARNING: The income you get from this investment may go down as well as up.

Understanding investment risk

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This report uses the Zurich Life Risk Profiler, an illustrative tool designed to assist you in beginning to understand your attitude to risk which is an important step before making an investment. The Zurich Life Risk Profiler does not constitute advice from Zurich Life. It is very important that you review your overall situation and investment needs with us prior to making an investment.

NOTE: We have inserted an externally-sourced Risk Profile for this product

Throughout this document, we have provided some information on the risk level of your potential investment with Zurich. We use a 1-7 scale to assess investment risk, and the table below shows what each point on the scale means.

It is important that the funds you invest in meet your needs - both in terms of delivering performance and their appropriateness to the level of risk you wish to take.

1	You are a ' very low risk ' investor. You are not willing to accept any significant risks with your money, accepting the prospect of low returns to achieve this.
2	You are a ' low risk ' investor. You are likely to accept limited risks with your money and will want to try to avoid large fluctuations in the value of your investment, accepting the prospect of more modest returns to achieve this.
3	You are a ' low to medium risk ' investor. You are likely to accept some risk in return for the potential of higher investment gains over the long-term. You want to try to avoid large fluctuations in the value of your investment, but accept there will be some fluctuation, particularly over the short-term.
4	You are a ' medium risk ' investor. You are likely to accept significant risk in return for the potential of good investment gains over the long-term. You accept there will be significant fluctuations in the value of your investment, particularly over the short-term. However, you will want to limit the amount of your money held in more risky investments.
5	You are a ' medium to high risk ' investor. You are likely to understand that the value of your investment can go down and up sharply with the potential for greater returns over the long-term.
6	You are a ' high risk ' investor. You are likely to aim for high possible returns and accept higher levels of risk, recognising that the value of your investment may fluctuate very sharply, particularly over the short-term.
7	You are a ' very high risk ' investor. You are likely to aim for the highest possible returns and accept the highest levels of risk, recognising that the value of your investment may fluctuate very widely, particularly over the short-term.

Risk Ratings

Your Risk Profile is a measure of the level of investment risk you are comfortable with having. If no risk profile is shown, we can help you to assess your attitude to risk.

The Portfolio Risk Rating is a measure of the level of investment risk associated with your potential investment with Zurich.

What's happening in the markets?

December 2024

In November, US stock markets climbed to new record highs following Trump's election victory. However, price pressures remain elevated, with US core inflation holding at 3.3% year-over-year in October, indicating that inflation is not yet fully gone away. Treasury yields (which move inversely to price) fluctuated in November, beginning to rise ahead of the election and gaining momentum weekly due to the potential for inflationary policies following Trump's win. In contrast, European stocks experienced their worst month relative to the US since 1998. The Eurozone's economic outlook deteriorated, with increasing uncertainty stemming from political issues and trade conflicts. Inflation in Europe rose to 2.3% in November, but the ECB appears positioned to continue with rate cuts. Despite generally favourable market conditions in November, risks remain, including geopolitical tensions, potential inflation resurgences driven by tariffs, and global monetary policy uncertainties.

Cash

In November, central banks continued to lower interest rates. The Federal Reserve decreased the federal funds rate by 25 basis points, bringing it to a target range of 4.50%-4.75%. Similarly, the Bank of England reduced its policy rate by 25 basis points to 4.75%. Treasury yields experienced significant fluctuations in November, with the US 10-year yield reaching a high of 4.45%. The potential appointment of Scott Bessent as Secretary of the Treasury was well-received, bringing yields down by more than 10 basis points across the curve, to end November at 4.17%.

By the end of the month, 1 Euro purchased 1.058 USD, down from 1.088 the previous month. This rally in the USD was driven by the perception that Trump's fiscal plans could be inflationary, potentially restricting the Fed's rate-cutting cycle.

Bonds

In November, central banks continued to lower interest rates. The Federal Reserve decreased the federal funds rate by 25 basis points, bringing it to a target range of 4.50%-4.75%. Similarly, the Bank of England reduced its policy rate by 25 basis points to 4.75%. Treasury yields experienced significant fluctuations in November, with the US 10-year yield reaching a high of 4.45%. The potential appointment of Scott Bessent as Secretary of the Treasury was well-received, bringing yields down by more than 10 basis points across the curve, to end November at 4.17%.

Equity

The US election results were the primary driver of equities in November. All sectors ended the month in positive territory in Euro terms, with Consumer Discretionary and Financials leading the gains at 12.6% and 11.1% respectively. Although the overall environment remains favourable for equities, it is important to consider potential downsides. Many of Trump's proposed policy measures could drive inflation, especially considering that the US economy is still growing above trend and the labour market remains relatively tight. Outside of the US, the election results were received with some caution, with the Europe ex-UK index rising only 0.14% for November.

Alternatives

Commodity returns were volatile in November. Gold ended the month down by -0.9%, while Copper saw a decline of -2.4% in Euro terms. The reduction of Russian gas deliveries to Europe and the unexpected closure of a large natural gas plant in Australia led to an increase in gas prices.

Fund Description

The Prisma 3 Fund is an actively managed fund which aims to achieve growth through capital gains and income from investing across a diversified range of global asset classes - equities, bonds, property, commodities, cash and alternative assets. The strategic and tactical asset allocation strategies employed by the fund managers aim to generate long-term capital growth while targeting a volatility range of 2% - 5% over a rolling 5 year period. This fund invests some of its assets outside the eurozone so a currency risk arises for a euro investor. As the fund is managed from the point of view of a euro investor any currency hedging that may be conducted will be into euros. This fund is managed by Zurich Life.

Pensions - Frequently asked questions

We're always here to help so don't hesitate to pick up the phone if your question can't be answered below.

1. What is a pension plan?

A pension plan is a retirement savings plan that provides you with a steady income after you retire. It is designed to ensure you have sufficient funds to maintain your standard of living in retirement.

2. How does a pension plan work?

You contribute a portion of your salary to the pension plan, often with additional contributions from your employer. These contributions are invested, and the returns on these investments help grow your retirement savings over time.

4. How much should I contribute to my pension plan?

The amount you should contribute depends on your retirement goals, current age, and financial situation. A common recommendation is to contribute at least 10-15% of your annual salary.

5. What are the tax benefits of contributing to a pension plan?

Contributions to a pension plan are often tax-deductible, and the investment growth within the plan is typically tax-deferred until you withdraw the funds at retirement.

6. When can I start receiving benefits from my pension plan?

The age at which you can start receiving benefits varies by plan, but it is usually around the age of 65. Some plans offer early retirement options, often with reduced benefits.

7. What happens if I change jobs?

If you change jobs, you may have several options, including leaving your funds in the current plan, transferring them to your new employer's plan, or rolling them over into an individual retirement account (IRA).

8. Can I withdraw money from my pension plan before retirement?

Early withdrawals are generally discouraged and may be subject to penalties and taxes. However, some plans allow for hardship withdrawals under specific circumstances.

9. How are my pension benefits calculated?

For defined benefit plans, benefits are typically calculated based on factors such as your salary, years of service, and a predetermined formula. For defined contribution plans, benefits depend on the amount contributed and the investment performance.

10. What happens to my pension if I die?

Most pension plans offer survivor benefits to your spouse or designated beneficiary. The specifics depend on the terms of your plan, so it is important to review these details.

11. How can I ensure my pension plan is on track?

Regularly review your pension plan statements, consult with your financial advisor, and adjust as needed to stay on track with your retirement goals.
