Week in Review

- Equities were relatively stable in local terms during the week, with the stronger Euro reducing returns for Irish investors. US Economic data was mixed, with solid retail sales and labour data somewhat offset by weaker home sales figures.
- The Jackson Hole Economic Symposium saw keynote speeches from a number of prominent central bankers, with Fed Chair Powell commenting that the US economy has 'strengthened substantially' and that further interest rate increases would remain appropriate.
- The announcement of a wave of new US tariffs on Chinese imports failed to upset markets, as press reports of a breakthrough in NAFTA negotiations between Mexico and the US also hit news bulletins.

	1 Week Return 17.07.18 to 24.08.18		Year to Date Return 31.12.17 to 24.08.18

The global index was down slightly last week, in euro terms, as a weaker US dollar affected returns. Europe and Ireland both saw strong positive moves.

Oil reversed its recent weak run, and closed at just short of $69/barrel as Iran sanctions started to impact global supply. Gold also moved higher and closed at $1,205 per troy ounce. Copper was up nearly 3% over the course of the week, helped by the weaker US dollar.

The ten year US bond yield finished at 2.81%, amid some market uncertainty. The German equivalent closed at 0.34%, having started the week at 0.30%.

The EUR/USD rate finished the week at 1.16.
