

Monthly Investment Review

- Global stock markets lost some ground in August as investors fretted over trade tensions between the US and China. The US S&P500 Index had hit an all-time high on 26th July. In the short term, investors appear to have become overly negative regarding the outlook for economic growth. There may now be some unwinding of the 'fear premium' seen in 'safe haven' assets such as government bonds and gold and there could be a boost to risk assets, especially equities.

Development

- There remain longer-term concerns over growth, particularly outside of the US. However, with many bond markets now in negative yield territory and offering little or no long-term value, equities seem to have further upside potential. Equities are also reasonably valued on a stand-alone basis.
- Given the current market environment, Zurich believes it makes sense to take a positive stance on equities.

Activity

Equity positions were maintained at the upper end of ranges across all of our multi-asset portfolios. Zurich remains reasonably constructive on equities in general, especially given their value relative to bonds. With regards to geographic positions, the main bias is towards Asia-Pacific at the expense of the US. Sector positions were broadly maintained during August. The funds are positively biased towards technology and materials stocks and negatively biased towards consumer staples and real estate. Bond positions are below the middle of ranges whilst the duration of these bonds is now close to neutral, on a tactical basis.

Equity & Bond % Returns: August 2019

This graph shows the performance of the major equity markets over the month of August. The returns are shown in both local and euro currencies. The bond index is the Merrill Lynch Over Five Year Euro Government Bond Index.

MARKET PERFORMANCE

Equities

Fixed Income & Currencies

The Over Five Year Euro Government Bond Index rose by 3.6% in August and is up by an exceptional 15.7% so far in 2019. European bond prices have reacted positively in 2019 to weaker Eurozone economic data, benign inflation and an increasingly dovish European Central Bank. The German ten-year bond yield fell again in August moving from minus 0.44% to minus 0.70%. This is a most unusual situation and means that buying German bonds today guarantees a significant loss if held to maturity. Equivalent US rates also fell sharply from plus 2.0% to plus 1.5%. The markets now expect two more rate cuts (of 0.25%) in the US during the remainder of 2019 following the cut in July (the first in a decade). Eurozone rates are expected to be cut by 0.1% from their current ultra-low level of minus 0.40% at the end of Quarter 3 or the start of Quarter 4.

Alternatives

August saw overall commodity prices decline by 4.6% and they are now flat year-to-date. The oil price fell sharply during the month (-6.5%) but is up close to 20% so far this year. The gold price rose by close to 7% during August, helped by its 'safe haven' status, finishing at $1,523 per troy ounce. The copper price was off 5%. The euro currency weakened slightly during August against the US dollar with the EUR/USD rate moving from 1.11 to 1.10. The rate began the year at 1.15.

Annual management charges (AMC) apply. The fund returns shown are net of the AMC deducted by each provider in their unit prices. This will vary for each provider, and any difference will impact the relative performance of the funds shown. The fund returns are based on an investment in the funds and do not represent the returns achieved by individual policies linked to the funds. These fund returns may be before the full AMC is applied to a policy. The actual returns on policies linked to the specified fund will be lower because of the effects of charges and in some cases a higher management charge.

Figures highlighted in beige indicate where the Zurich Life fund has outperformed the sector average.

Warning: Past performance is not a reliable guide to future performance.

Warning: The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

Warning: Benefits may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates.

Warning: If you invest in this fund you may lose some or all of the money you invest.
