

Monthly Investment Review

The vigorous recovery in global activity amid a swift economic reopening in developed markets is reinforcing investor confidence in global equities. As equities trade at the higher end of normal valuation levels and central banks move towards policy normalisation, episodes of volatility should not be surprising. However, robust fundamentals and strong corporate earnings should continue to bolster equity performance. Despite the recent slip in global bond yields, the direction of travel for yields is likely to be higher. Solid growth and higher inflation should put pressure on bond prices.

Headline inflation in the US reached the highest level in decades mainly due to soaring oil prices, following extreme lows in 2020, and post-pandemic supply bottlenecks. Combating inflation remains embedded in central banks' DNA and they are well positioned to do so should it prove more persistent.

Head of Investment Overall, we favour equities over bonds, mainly based on the relative value argument.

Activity

Equity positions in our multi-asset funds were unchanged during June and remain well above benchmark. With regards to geographic positions, the main bias is towards Europe, the UK and, to a lesser extent, Asia. The US position was increased but remains underweight.

Sector-wise, the funds are positively biased towards technology and consumer discretionary stocks, and negatively biased towards 'bond proxy' areas such as healthcare and consumer staples.

Bond positions are well below the middle of ranges whilst the duration of these bonds is below benchmark. Corporate bonds have been increased at the expense of sovereign bonds over the last 14 months.

Annual management charges (AMC) apply. The fund returns shown are net of the AMC deducted by each provider in their unit prices. This will vary for each provider, and any difference will impact the relative performance of the funds shown. The fund returns are based on an investment in the funds and do not represent the returns achieved by individual policies linked to the funds. These fund returns may be before the full AMC is applied to a policy. The actual returns on policies linked to the specified fund will be lower because of the effects of charges and in some cases a higher management charge.
