

Connect Women in Pensions in association with Zurich Life

On a beautiful summer's evening Zurich Life and the networking group 'Connect Women in Pensions' joined forces to host a social evening in Lansdowne Rugby Club.

Over 60 key female influencers in the life and pensions industry gathered in force to celebrate their female status. With the aim of improving opportunities for women in the industry, Connect are actively encouraging women to network regularly, share and discuss relevant topics and encourage a much greater take up of pensions from women. With a continuous changing environment in pensions, Zurich Life was delighted to sponsor this event.

The star attraction on the night was the esteemed speaker, Margaret E. Ward who spoke eloquently on the theme of 'Making your mark as a leader'. As a Broadcaster, Entrepreneur and Financial Journalist Margaret brought a wealth of experience and funny anecdotes which really resonated with the audience. Questions and answers flowed and continued well on into the evening. The event was a resounding success with the promise of many more to come.

The Connect Women in Pensions group is open to all professionals in the life and pensions industry. They are actively looking for volunteers for their committee and other activities – to join, just look for the LinkedIn group Connect Women in Pensions or visit connectwomeninpensions.com.
