

Zurich Life Monthly Investment Review

For January 2012

Investment Comment & Outlook

Overall: Despite a sharp rally in equities on the back of reasonable valuations and better US economic data, equity markets remain vulnerable to any escalation of the eurozone debt crisis, the potential slowdown in growth in China and downward revisions to corporate earnings. Bond yields are expected to remain low.

Equity Markets

- Equity markets rose steadily during January as investors 'climbed the wall of worry', i.e. the market continuing to rise while there is significant uncertainty about its sustainability. A number of indices have now moved closer to strong technical resistance levels and are somewhat 'over-bought'.
- World equities (in euro terms) rose by almost 5% during January, continuing the rally that began in October of last year.
- Returns, in local currency terms, for the main markets in January ranged from 2% in the UK to 11% in Hong Kong. Currency movements had little impact on returns.
- Sector returns were a polar opposite of events in 2011 with cyclical areas, such as basic materials and industrials, outperforming defensive stocks. Some defensives, like telecoms and utilities, were actually in negative territory over the month. Again breaking the trend, financial stocks performed well.

Commodities & Currencies

- Commodity prices were up in January with the CRB Index rising over 2%.
- Brent oil (European) ended January at almost $111 per barrel, up about $4 on the month. West Texas (US) was virtually flat, at just under $99 per barrel.
- The gold price rose sharply in January, recovering all of the losses of the previous month. The metal finished the month at $1,738 per troy ounce, still well off its August 2011 all-time-high of $1,889.
- Following two consecutive months of sharp falls against the US dollar, the euro was relatively flat in January. The €/ $ rate moved from 1.30 to 1.31 during the period.

Bonds & Interest Rates

- Bond prices moved higher again in January with the Merrill Lynch Euro over 5 Year Index rising by 2.2%. However, there was significant divergence between the periphery, which performed strongly, and the core of the eurozone, which was flat.
- Returns by eurozone country ranged from 0% in Germany to 9% in Ireland.
- ECB policy remained bond-positive, with a follow-up (3-year) LTRO (provision of substantial extra liquidity) now expected at the end of February.
- Eurozone interest rates are generally expected to be cut one more time to 0.75%. Predictions for the UK and US continue to suggest no movement in emergency low rates in either jurisdiction until 2014.

Fund Allocations & Activity

Equities: The funds are underweight.

Bonds: The funds are slightly overweight.

Activity: Pacific Basin equities were increased slightly. Some financial and basic material stocks were bought in Europe.

Regionally, the funds are:

- underweight in Ireland, Japan, the UK and Europe.
- neutral in the Pacific Basin.
- slightly overweight in the US.

Sectorwise, the funds are:

- overweight technology.
- underweight financials and industrials.
- otherwise reasonably balanced.

Equity and Bond % Returns

This graph shows the performance of the major equity markets over the month of January. The returns are shown in both local and euro currencies. The bond index is the Merrill Lynch over 5 Year Euro Government Bond Index.
